THIS LITTLE BOOK has been dedicated to freedom and since that word is so all inclusive we have taken liberties with it to include and exclude things in this volume which preceding issues have considered ritual in handling. The changes aren't too numerous—enough perhaps to set the book apart from its fellows and to strike a new note of freshness. If so, good; if not, it is too late to either rectify or repeat, so with that in mind we turn it over to you.

In order to give the diverse subject matter cohesion, we have built the volume around the theme of construction—first the administrators. The Molders of Clay, beginning in the classroom to mold the individual with their own skills and knowledge. Then out of the classroom and from behind the scenes of administrators, the individual goes to brush against his fellow students in whatever pursuits his individuality may dictate—the Potters Wheel—drama, publications, athletics, whatever it may be, it adds something not garnered from a textbook or lecture. And lastly the people, as Unfinished Urns, for the knowledge they gain in college is a superficial one and the worthwhile must be segregrated from the useless in the school of practical experience.

Nothing spectacular, no great American novel, no brilliance merely an honest effort to please.

A DAY AT THE

GLANCE INTO THE CLASSROOMS of the school at any time and son can see students in the cital phrsuit of hunwledge. Here in one room we meet an art class, struggling with brush and pencil to shape their crude skills into a finished art product; again commercial students peck tentatively at the keys of their machines seeking producting and speed to meet the competition that will unit outside the classroom. On the field young men drill with a new determination, for at no time did their ROTC training mean so much, seem so students.

GOESON

KNOWLEDGE IS a fleeting thing retained only through repetition and careful study. From a host of books and a myriad of experiments, lecture- and informal discussions, too much of the essence seems retained only in carelessly scribbled notes; too little as workable information of the mind. Some is retained only as a raggest hole panelled them a letter on a grade sheet a brief reminder. Yet the search goesom with various intensities diligently, haphazardly, casually.

AND ON AND ON

SOME DON'T CARE any more; vacillating, tremulous emotions and unuallies. "What the hell I'll he make army anyway." And so books and labe and the prots are set aside in a brief flurry of treedom before looping to inevitable regimentation. Behind them, around them, thoughing are the same. Beo's still suffer their mutilated corners the pulling between lass and continues, so hool keeps, turbulent tho off-campus affairs may be.

ASMSU is a multicheaded, complex organization and while it is not from the ultimate that might be vished for in student-taculty cooperation, it is a worthwhile step in that direction. NEVER BLESSED with a wealth of men with which to stan their trains these Montana coaches must now look into the future with a lean and hunges look man hunger and money hunger; hunger unsatiated in all probability when we consider that this year their teams were under-manned and their budget under fed. It means harder work for these already hard working coaches if Montana is to hold her head up in major competition the next tex years. # THE SPURS

THIS GROUP is a fermione counterpart of the Bear Paws and selects its members from the same class but with a bit more rigid supervision of the candidate's past record. The group is more closely organized and is to be found at the head of every rally column, as ushers at convocation, eating together in the store, selling tags and tickets and a host of other services. Together the groups sponsor the ready Red Cross dyne and in general help to promote and intensify the feeling of commaraderic on the campus.

TAKE Pre-NOBLE Sec JUDSON Treas

THE 100 PLUS CUTIES who hit the campus each fall are packed into North Hall. Freshies fall head long into soronities, activities. Some are entangled by aged lines of upperclass men, others survive this and stick by their equals from South Hall. All are annized by the newness, the rules, the campus bigshots. Most fail to appreciate their year of friendly democratic living; next year they'll become failed upperclass women and split up into New Hall and Greek houses; become big shots them selves

HHERES, Sections.

SOUTH HALL resembles a small revolution of trumper practicing, cold tubs and lusty yodeling chilled by the draft, this year's bunch rattle through the empty halls and share board with taiban Have then pick of the North Hall pulch ritude some sneak down soronty row to see what the upperclass women book like know nothing when they come, know everything when they leave.

JARUSSI, Pres. WHLLIS, Vice Pres. LIND, SersTress.

MSU's SMALL Waldorf Astoria harbors barbs and stray and local Greeks who prefer the quest dignity of this apperclass women's doror to the heetic life of sorority row. Spaceous rooms, gleanoughalls—quite a change tromather freshman home is this coed's heaven of blonde furniture, stocking dryers, ample phones. Members absorb the chaining atmosphere; here live campus queens, activity women, daters and just good kids. Contrary to campus opinion. New Hallers are not unlike Greek ettes; have private cliques and loyalty of their own. Led by kindly, efficient Mrs. Turner, hall director. New Hall forms a dynamic part of campus life.

STEEFT, Pros. MILSON, Vice Pres. VAN DIMARK, Trees.

SOPHOMORES

WITH A YEAR of seasoning under their helts, sophoroces beat it back to school willing, able and ready for anything. They got it. Daugling odd iobs that no one else wants to do are willingly wished on the sophs. Left with vestiges of freshman school spirit, the kids are stanisch supporters of general campus activities. Serve as watchdogs of the campus at rallies, SOS, Homecoming, etc. This year's busy little beavers were led by soph officers Mather, Holley and Mee, who, having no defined duties, had lots of fun doing nothing.

The limitest with Montana spirit are Bear Paws and Spirit who carry the burden of campus duties. Seen generally around bursting at the seams with animation. Entire class furnishes a goodly portion of Grizzhes, queens, politicians, etc.

Pass Myklebust and Milstein pause to look over the compas. A few sophs slurp up a little ice steam.

BELLY LEAPHART, Pres.

PEGGY LANDRETH, Tree-DOROTHY ROCHON S. RAY WISE Visc Pres.

TO THE JUNIORS goes the responsibility of throwmg the Prom. usually lost in the rush of other spring damees. Leaphart, Landreth, Rochor and Wise did a commendable rob on this year's, probably the fast as the hop is destined for a war fadeout. Patractic students crowned Deede Takott prom queen and sent damee proceeds to buy honds for bamba.

Deesan, Coriott and Anderson discuss the Vigilante situation

HIGHLIGHTS

JUNIORS ARE USUALLY defined as characters with no grade points and a worried look towards that grademan with striped pants and draft papers in his band. A few of the third year kids joined up for the duration and the rest scurred quickly into the safety of advanced army. The rest of the crew moved into their cext to last year with plenty of drive and a ronning band in the campus machinery. Prepare themselves to be college leaders and next year's Montana men and women of the year.

E T C., E T C., E T C.

A FEW OF THE things that have gone on during the year—one picture—many words. Something with which to wind up the book.

OCTOBER

REGISTRATION : thrill to confused freshmen, here to sophisticated upperclass men . . . (tsh week . . . sleepy, fast-talking Greeks . . . . first signs of football . . mixers . . . pledge parties . . . touch football in Clover Bowl . . . campus colors shift to copper and gold . . . new faces, new dates new couples . . . campus leaders dimly appear . . . activities swing into shape . . . the Butte special to shellack Bozeman . . . first convos . . . Sentinel staff starts piugging busily on.

NOVEMBER

RALLIES FROM Greek row to behind the Union . . . bonfires . . . speeches . . . yells . . . Spurs and Bearpaws stir up loyalty, spirit . . . Homecoming . . . open houses, smokers, alum teas . . . that parade . . . misty eyed grads and loyal students stand together at SOS . . . the clock strikes . . . College Chums . . . the big game and bigger dance . . . Grizzly queen is crowned . . . bare trees . . . leaf shufflers wade to classes . . . aresides . . . . college in smoke in the Store . . . a gruelling five minutes in the library . . . more football . . . more rallies . . . up with Montana boys.

DECEMBER

and dorm formals . . . quarter winding up so library fills up . . . WAA Christmas fireside . . . Masquer play . . . Christmas convo . . . winter quarter registration . . . Dec. 7 breaks the thread but the pattern moves on to exams and final week . . . derricks needed for the midnight oil . . . last minute cramming . . . two-hour torture and it's all over now . . . downtown trips to help von forget what you forget to learn . . . the 3 o'clock special and home to the folks.

sleigh rides... Nite Club dance... 8 o'clocks... icy floors silent snow... Barristers'... this time the punch was real... varsity basketball... over to Bozeman... ski parties... the Greeks bowl.. Interfrat hoop games...

Pan-hel formal... inevitable Kaimins at noon... a white campus digs in for a blizzardy winter... editor cracks whip as Sentinel staff plods wearily on.

FEBRUARY

FORESTERS'... Rangers' Dream comes true... levis and plaids ... quite a damp night... Bozeman over there... damn those Bobcats... gals save up for Coed... so do the males... Greek hellweeks and initiations... few new pins hung... a few more returned... Sentinel staff plugs busily on.

MARCH

FALSE ALARMS of spring . . . another exam week . . . babblings of Sentinel staff annoy editor who takes refuge in downtown digent while staff plugs merrily on . . . then finally spring's here . . . rhapsody in green . . . ice cream cones . . . lazy ox throwing in front of the Union . . . beneath Montana skies . . . Kaimin cut to three issues . . . SOS . . . cars damn expensive so students hoof it and the profs take to bicycles . . . club tournament.

APRIL

SENTINEL STAFF quite exhausted but still plugging . . . Story Book Ball . . . Our Town gets a hand . . . army crops out . . . coed oval gallery ali at antiformed males straggling by . . . Military Ball and the new Coed Colonel . . Scabbard and Blade sets up business on the oval . . . TXT explodes and it's every politician for himself . . . hand shaking season . . . Vigilantes . . . Kaimin extras . . . Interfraternity . . . Aber Day . . . Campus Rakings . . . elections . . . the campus gets a manicure . . . high court . . . picuies . . . brewery enjoys prospecity.

LONG LINE outside Ifeatch Service indicates picnic tick season to on ... Greek dinner dances ... the I cleans house for the high school stampede ... Interscholastic ... open house ... a day at the rareall to convince the unlearned that Montana has no equal ... tandem bikes ... numerous picnics ... Sentinel editor collapses but staff plugs merrily on ... In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of ... baseball ... tennis ... golf ... softball.

MAY

JUNE

THIS IS THE SPOT where bewildered editors usually put then hearts into words and utter much gush about paste and glue and pictures and copy and a loyal staff ad nanseum. All of which shall be discontinued at present writing. To begin with, at the present writing there is no indication that the book will even come out and if it does there is still no indication that it will be paid for. Hence no cause for enthusiasm. If it does there still won't be time to write lengthily and brag gardly as there are many mistakes, inclusions and exclusions that some might not agree with. So be it. Life is more interesting when there are a few in disaccord with the multitude. So with the Sentinel. So to conclude this beautiful epitaph let it be said that the editor duly appreciates the work done by all members of the staff who deserve the tribute shoes fitting, et al. It certainly fits Dolores Woods, Ann John son. Nime Mosby, the Perry Towne Johnson combination, Ev Morris and others. Also thanks to Kirk Badgley, the man of figures, whose sound judgment aided the rasher evaluations of youth. Also the multitude of technical men, Albert C. Evans of McKee Printing, Sam Babcock of Babcock Cover Co., and Vince Newcomer of Metropolitan Engravers in particular. who remedied errors as much as possible and tossed the book into shape. So to the army,

THE FUTURE OF

AMERICA is in your hands. Always remember the precepts set forth by your ancestors, for it was only through their individual effort and their belief in the rightness of private enterprise that America became great.

You are entrusted to continue that American way. You must defend it against encroachment from either within or without. Be vigilant and hold your trust sacred.
